I felt I had done right in killing the woman. She belonged to a class that has kept me poor and tolling like a slave all my life, but I felt it was not fair that an innocent man should suffer for my act of justice. For that reason I told my friend, John Geishard, of my act—I cannot call it a crime—and he brought the police to my room—last night where I was in bed. I went with them as calm as I am now. I hope for nothing and feel nothing but an absolute indifference. I have avenged myself on the women who keep men tolling all their lives that they may spend their money."

A pronounced switch in the tone of the election returns late this afternoon changed the aspect of affairs and leaves the result in doubt, with tord Detective Was- the chances favoring the election of M. Linn Bruce, the Republican cardidate for Lieutenant-Governor. The Associated Press at 4 o'clock this afternoon announced that the figures at hand establish the election of Mr. Bruce, Barlier in the day'the election of Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler and the whole Democratic ticket except Hearst seemed assured. The Associated Press report says.

"Complete returns have been received from only eighteen counties outside of New York City. In twelve of these counties Mr. Bruce runs ahead of his ticket, and in the six in which his vote falls below that of There Hughes the variations are slight. The indications are that his plurality and adventures in the will be larger than that of Mr. Hughes above the Broax."

Some one should avenge all this," he CHANLER RUNS AHEAD,

In the Greater City Mr. Chanler ran 58,000 ahead of Hearst, and up-State figures have been received which credit him with about 3,000 votes more than Hearst received. But even this is not enough to overshadow Hughes's plurality of 67,000, unless there is a pronounced trend without the benefit of the interest of involuntary police he would spread his hands wide in his favor in counties that have not been heard from, homicide in running an automobile over one and draw attention to them.
